

We invite you to the Summer School in the year of its 50th anniversary and in the 65th year of the Jagiellonian University in Krakow.

The Jagiellonian University, founded in 1364, is the oldest university in Poland and the second oldest university north of the Alps. Located in one of the most beautiful European cities, historic Krakow, the Jagiellonian University offers foreigners a unique opportunity not only to study Polish language, culture and society, but also to experience over 650 years of its history, magnificent architecture, and art. The Jagiellonian University School of Polish Language and Culture, part of the Center for Polish Language and Culture in the World within the Faculty of Polish Studies, organizes short-term individual courses, "Semester Abroad" as well as summer programs. Founded in 1969, the School is preparing to celebrate its 50th anniversary. Over the past half of the century the School - the oldest, largest, and most experienced in Poland - has welcomed thousands of students, teachers and professors from all over the world. During inauguration ceremonies outstanding scholars of the caliber of Nobel Prize Winner for Literature Czesław Miłosz, Prime Minister of Poland Jerzy Buzek, Professor Norman Davies, Professor Leszek Balcerowicz, Oscar winning film director Andrzej Wajda, world-famous journalist Ryszard Kapuściński, deliver introductory lectures. Apart from the rich academic program, the School organizes visits to Krakow's finest museums, concert halls, and theaters, as well as field trips. The warm student community atmosphere of the School Program offers all participants a truly memorable and enlightening experience.

In 2000 the Minister of Foreign Affairs of Poland awarded the School with a prestigious honorary diploma for outstanding achievements in promoting Polish culture abroad.

In 2002, 2005, 2008, and 2015 the European Commission granted the School the European Label Award for innovative initiatives in language teaching.

DESCRIPTION OF THE COURSES ●

language courses:

The courses in Polish language are structured in accordance with the level specifications defined in the European Council document Common European Framework of Reference for Languages: Learning, Teaching, Assessment; CEFR.

C2	Proficient User C2 – Polish State Certificate Level C2
C1	Proficient User C1
B2	Independent User B2 – Polish State Certificate Level B2
B1	Independent User B1 – Polish State Certificate Level B1
A2	Basic User A2
A1	Basic User A1

Students are tested to be placed in the classes suitable for their language proficiency level.

All language classes are taught in Polish!

Maximum number of students in a language class: 12 people.

Common Reference Levels: global scale (Common European Framework of Languages)

PROFICIENT USER	C2	Can understand with ease virtually everything heard and read. Can summarise information from different spoken and written sources, reconstructing arguments and accounts in a coherent presentation. Can express him/herself spontaneously, very fluently and precisely, differentiating finer shades of meaning even in more complex situations.
	C1	Can understand a wide range of demanding, longer texts, and recognise implicit meaning. Can express him/herself fluently and spontaneously without much obvious searching for expressions. Can use language flexibly and effectively for social, academic and professional purposes. Can produce clear, well-structured, detailed text on complex subjects, showing controlled use of organisational patterns, connectors and cohesive devices.

INDEPENDENT USER	B2	Can understand the main ideas of complex text on both concrete and abstract topics, including technical discussions in his/her field of specialisation. Can interact with a degree of fluency and spontaneity that makes regular interaction with native speakers quite possible without strain for either party. Can produce clear, detailed text on a wide range of subjects and explain a viewpoint on a topical issue giving the advantages and disadvantages of various options.
	B1	Can understand the main points of clear standard input on familiar matters regularly encountered in work, school, leisure, etc. Can deal with most situations likely to arise whilst travelling in an area where the language is spoken. Can produce simple connected text on topics which are familiar or of personal interest. Can describe experiences and events, dreams, hopes and ambitions and briefly give reasons and explanations for opinions and plans.
BASIC USER	A2	Can understand sentences and frequently used expressions related to areas of most immediate relevance (e.g. very basic personal and family information, shopping, local geography, employment). Can communicate in simple and routine tasks requiring a simple and direct exchange of information on familiar and routine matters. Can describe in simple terms aspects of his/her background, immediate environment and matters in areas of immediate need.
	A1	Can understand and use familiar everyday expressions and very basic phrases aimed at the satisfaction of needs of a concrete type. Can introduce him/herself and others and can ask and answer questions about personal details such as where he/she lives, people he/she knows and things he/she has. Can interact in a simple way provided the other person talks slowly and clearly and is prepared to help.

programs and the method:

The Polish language programs, the teaching methods and most of the teaching aids used during the summer courses have been developed by the staff of the Jagiellonian University Center for Polish Language and Culture in the World. The Center is a leading research institution on teaching of Polish as a second and foreign language. As a result of methodological studies and extensive practical experience of our teachers we have worked out our own method of teaching Polish, which is of an eclectic character. For many years we have been strong advocates of the communicative approach in foreign language teaching, never hesitating to teach functional grammar – even explicitly and cognitively – if our students needed it. Effective communication in Polish is impossible without a firm grammatical foundation. We have emphasized the need of parallel work on developing all language skills, including writing. Among the applied methods special mention should be made of our task- and project-oriented approach, focused on social interaction and teamwork.

grades:

The final grade for all language courses is a result of the following scores:

- attendance and class work (20%),
- midterm test (30%),
- final exam (50%).

NOTE!

Students who miss more than 10% of the Polish language classes (without excuse) may not take the Polish language exam.

The following grading scale is used:

94–100	A	5,0	excellent/bardzo dobry
87–93,9	B+	4,5	very good/+dobry
78–86,9	B	4,0	good/dobry
69–77,9	C+	3,5	satisfactory/+dostateczny
60–68,9	C	3,0	sufficient/dostateczny
0–59,9	F	2,0	fail/niedostateczny

other (non-language) courses:
in alphabetical order

• Contemporary Poland and Her Society in the 21st Century (Eng.)

Since 1989 Poland has been officially a free market democracy with a civic society. Yet while economic and political changes are relatively easy to engineer, the social ones are much harder and take much longer. This course will present contemporary Polish society, noting remnants from the past, examining evidence of deeper transformations already accomplished, and predicting negative and positive trends developing into the future.

Dates: August 5-13	Hours: 15
Class time: 3:00-4:30 p.m.	Credits/ECTS points: 1

- Polish Art: Past and Present (Eng.) – for four- and six-week program participants only!
The development of Polish art since the 10th c. Special emphasis will be placed on the importance of Poland within Europe, including the formative effects of geopolitics on the development of Polish artistic movements, Polish church art, folk art, poster and architecture. In-depth art history lectures will be conducted both at the University and in museums. The course will be accompanied by a program of field trips.

Dates: July 5-23	Hours: 45
Class time: 1:30-4:00 p.m.	Credits/ECTS points: 3

NOTE: There will be an additional fee of 300 PLN for this course to cover various admission fees and other expenses. Classes will start at 1:30 p.m. so only the students who choose four- or six-week program can take this course. Limited admission, on a first come, first served basis.

- Polish Culture: Lessons in Polish Literature (Eng.)
A presentation of some of the most interesting problems in the thousand-year history of Polish culture, with special emphasis on themes related to national existence. Literary masterpieces of the past and present, including poetry of the two Nobel Prize winners – Czesław Miłosz (1980), and Wisława Szymborska (1996); Polish Romanticism; culture in a political context; the phenomenon of exiled culture; literature and totalitarianism, and other “great questions” of Polish culture will be discussed.

- Trips to: the ancient Salt Mine in Wieliczka; the Pieniny Mountains, including a raft ride on the Dunajec river; the Tatra Mountains, including a visit to the resort city of Zakopane.

All trips are organized for each program separately.

● CERTIFICATES AND CREDIT POINTS

Within four-, six- and three-week programs you can choose from various courses so that the total number of hours taken by you meets your expectations (make sure the courses do not overlap and are taught during your stay in Krakow). In order to obtain credits you should fulfill all the course requirements, i.e. appropriate attendance, midterm test, and final exam in Polish language; final test or a paper on the topic accepted by the academic adviser (in other courses). Students who pass the final language exams and meet attendance requirements receive a Jagiellonian University Polish Language Certificate (Świadectwo Językowe Uniwersytetu Jagiellońskiego). On request we also send Transcript of Studies which states the number of instruction hours, the level of the language course and/or the titles of other courses taken, and a grade or grades. The transfer of credits obtained at the Jagiellonian University should be arranged with the home college or university. The participants wishing to do so ought to contact their Registrar's offices before going to Krakow.

All participants who attend classes also receive commemorative Certificates of Attendance.

● STATE CERTIFICATES IN POLISH AS A FOREIGN LANGUAGE

The Polish Ministry of Science and Higher Education has launched a system of state certification exams in Polish as a Foreign Language in 2004.

Full information about the state certificates can be obtained from:
